

Attention Beach Residents

We need your help!
What do you think of your beach?

Join our focus groups and tell us what you think!

The Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission is sponsoring a series of informal focus groups to learn more about people's perceptions of beaches and beach cleaning practices in this area. We are looking for residents of Longboat Key to join a relaxed group discussion. The feedback from the group will help benefit your local beach.

What do we need from you?

A commitment of 1 to 2 hours sometime in August or early September

Reservations are required, and free snacks and beverages will be provided!

RSVP by calling Heather Hillard: (386) 754-1668 or emailing: coastal@myfwc.com

We will work with participants to determine the best location, time and date.
