Certificate of Recognition

Presented to the Town of Longboat Key in celebration of its 60th Anniversary

The Town of Longboat Key, incorporated on November 14, 1955, has a rich history that spans the era of Calusa Indians and a bombing range during World War II, finally blossoming into the island paradise that residents and visitors enjoy today.

On November 14, 2015, Longboat Key will celebrate its 60th anniversary with a Town-wide celebration to include a picnic, jazz concert and fireworks over the bay. This celebration will take place from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m., at the Bayfront Park Recreation Center.

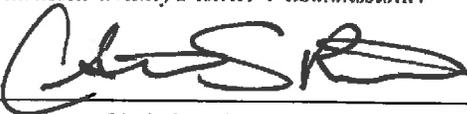

We recognize the community leaders and citizens of Longboat Key for the accomplishments and contributions they have provided over the past 60 years. This certificate is awarded in recognition of the honor and esteem accorded to The Town of Longboat Key and is presented as a remembrance by the Sarasota County Commission, this 14th day of November, 2015.
